

Target : QUADRAC Co., Ltd.

Outline : Commercialization of ultrahigh-speed payment servers and proximity communications devices

Authorized investment : ¥700 million (maximum)

- Through the commercialization of Q-CORE, offer a means to significantly reduce capital investment and operating costs for companies that need large-scale equipment to handle transactions at peak times
- Through the commercialization of CCC make possible all types of authentication and data exchange through natural arm or leg movements
- Allow fair and seamless provision of everyday services for all consumers, particularly in payment, public transport, and marketing