

Target: ispace, Inc.

Business Outline: Lunar transport and lunar surface exploration business with a focus on the development of space resources

Total Investment: 10.15 billion yen (Approx. US$91 million. Total investment including joint investment, of which INCJ will invest a maximum of 3.5 billion yen)

Date of Announcement: December 13, 2017

- The only venture company in Japan working with lunar transport and lunar surface exploration, with the expectation of spreading to the development of space resources
- Establishment of lunar transport and lunar surface exploration technology with the expectation to apply this to space exploration, transportation and data gathering technology for planets and deep space
- Actively support this influential space venture originating from Japan to strengthen international competitiveness in the space industry